

Hello I'm ONKAR

and I thrive on the thrill of turning complex problems into smooth-operating digital experiences. I've started my tech journey in the trenches of mechanical engineering, a world where every part has to work in harmony. I carry that same principle into the rich, ever-shifting tapestry of Full stack development.

My Journey

My adventure began in earnest with a pivotal six-month internship at MegSoft. Tasked with solo development responsibilities, I spearheaded the creation of an Internal Sales portal. It wasn't just about hitting milestones, it was about crafting an experience that felt intuitive for the user, optimized for the need, and delivered with punctuality.

Work Life

I'm part of the vibrant team at Edhaas DigiSoft Pvt, where I've embraced the art of crafting user interfaces with Angular and refining backend processes with Laravel, CI-3, and SQL. There's something incredibly satisfying about finding that 'sweet spot' where functionality and innovation meet.

Personal Growth:-

Despite the circuits and scripts in my professional life, I'm still an explorer at heart, always on the lookout for the next big challenge. 🚀 I believe there's always room to grow, to refine, to innovate and I savor each opportunity that comes my way.

🤝 Let's Connect:-

Connect with me on LinkedIn to be a part of my wonderful journey and see what the future holds.

Linkedin

THANK YOU